BALTIMORE RACES.

Second Day of the Maryland Jockey Club Spring Meeting.

Pera Tom Ochiltree, Chiquita and Egypt the Winners.

Baltimora, May 24, 1876.

The Maryland Jockey Club had delightful weather for the second day of the meeting, and Baltimore's beauty would not be denied the opportunity of witnessing the races. The attendance, consequently, at Pimlico was much larger than on the opening day of the meeting, and the running was of a superior order. Four events were on the card—the first a sweepstakes, for three-year olds, dash of a mile; the second the Baltimore Cup, dash of two miles and a quarter; the third a free handicap stakes, for all ages, dash of one mile and a haif, and the fourth mile heats, for all ages, with maiden allowances.

The great event of the day was the cup race, and The great event of the day was the cup race, and more botting was on that event than all the others sombined. Tom Ochiltree, a great favorite with Baltimoreans, having won his best races on the Pimiloo irack, added to his fame by winning the cup in a manner that assonished every baholder, proving himself as good, if not the best horse on this continent to-day. alloped along behind the others for a mile and quarters, when he made a dash, and in a moment had the field whipped and then galloped home at his case. Tom Ochiltree has a grand prospect before him and will win his owner lots of money. He is the handsomest large horse on the turf and is perfectly

The first race had as starters Davis' Enquirer filly May D., G. Lorillard's Sunburst and Ambush, Mulkey's Lady Veto, P. Lorillard's Pera and Shirley, Carr & Co.'s Ella Wotton and Baff and Blue, Doswell & Cammack's Rappahannock and Outcast, McDaniel's Vigil, Wyche's Red Dick celt, Babcock's Woodland and D. J. Crouse's Serge. P. Lorillard's team were the favorites, McDaniel's second choice and Doswell & Cammack's third in favor, the others bringing low figures as feldors. Pera dashed of first when Doswell & Cammack's third in favor, the others bringing low figures as fielders. Pera dashed off first when the flag fell, Vigil second, Rappahannock third, the Red Dick coit fourth, Outcast fifth, with the others following in very close order. Pera showed the way to the quarter pole, Rappahannock second, Vigil third, Outcast fourth, Serge fifth, Red Dick coit sixth, Shirley seventh, the others trailing on as fast as they could, but all practically out of therace. Pera maintained her advanced position down ce. Pera maintained her advanced position down to backstretch, and at the half-mile pole was two legibs in front of Vigil, Rappahannock third, Outcast fourth, Sunburst fifth, Sorge sixth, Shirley seventh, The latter dashed through the horses ahead of him, and Hoxer, Joe Cerns third, Osage fourth, Viator fifth, Ore Kuob sixth. Tom Ochiltree sevenih. Stampedo lad the way around the turn, Joe Cerns second, Viator third, Ore Knob fourth, Tom Ochiltree fifth, Hoager sixth, Osage seventh. Fast running was now the order of the moment, and the changes were very rapid after leaving the quarter pole, Stampede keeping in front, however. Down the beckstretch Viator made a desperate effort to overtake him, Ore Knob third. Tom Ochiltree fourth, Jo Cerns fifth, Hoaxer sixth, Osage seventh. As soon as the horses passed the hall-mile pole Tom Ochiltree made his run, and going like a flash was almost instantly in front and showing the way to the others, followed by Viator, with Stampedo third, Ore Knob fourth, Joe Cerns fifth, the others beaten off. Tom Ochiltree then galloped away from his companious and came home an easy winner of the race by three lengths. Stampedo was second, two leagths in front of Viator, Joe Cerns fourth. Ore Knob fifth, the Hoaxer sixth, Osage seventh. Time, 4:09. Barbee rode the winner.

W. Cottrill's General Harney, 106 ibs., and W. Mulkey's
Chiquita, by Hurrah, dam Sunrise, 105 ibs. General Harney was a great favorite at the start, selling for more than all the others combined. Chiquita jumped off with the lead, Paladin second, General Harney third. Oxmore fourth, Cariboo fifth. The horses ran around the lower turn in this order, and when they reached the stand at the completion of the first ball mile, Chiquita was first, General Harney second, Paladin third, Cariboo iourth, Oxmore fourth, Cariboo fifth. The completion of the first ball mile, Chiquita was first, General Harney second, Paladin third, Cariboo iourth, Oxmore fourth, Cariboo fifth. There was no change in the positions of the borses down the backstretch, but as they entered the lower turn Oxmore made strong running and soon captured Paladin, and, being forced up the homestretch, passed General Harney on the way, and was only beaten a length by Chiquita at the finish, General Harney was third, Paladin fourth, Cariboo fifth. The fourth race had for starters Patterson's Portland, Babcock's Egypt, Davis' Jest, Wilson's Tom O'Neil and Bethnuo's Bürgoo. Egypt was the favorite over the Beid at 100 to 30.

First Hest—Tom O'Neil was first away, Egypt second, Jest third, Burgoo fourth, Portland fifth. Going around the upper torn Egypt went to the front, Jest second, Burgoo third, Tom O'Neil fourth, Portland fifth. Egypt was half a length shead at the half-midpole, Burgoo second, half length in advance of Jest, Fom O'Neil fourth, Portland as before. Egypt galloped in hand around the lower turn, and was two magths in front at the three-quarter pole, but coming up the homestreich his head was pulled to the right and left to such an extent that many supposed he inlended to threw the heat. At the last moment, however, the horse was straighteded, and he won the heat by a head, Burgoo second, four lengths in front of fom O'Neil, who was half a length in advance of Jest, Portland distanced. Time, 1:37½.

Second Heat.—Tom O'Neil was first away, Jest second, Egypt third, Burgoo fourth, Going around the piper turn Egypt showed in iront, Jest second, Tom D'Neil third, Burgoo fourth, the horses so clone together that there was no daylight between them. Egypt led the way down the backstretch and around he lower turn, but coming up the homestretch Hughes brought Tom O'Neil up with a rush and came near capluring Egypt at the string, but the latter had some left, and when the heat by a short head. CINCINNATI RACES.

INAUGURAL MEETING OF THE CHESTER PARE ASSOCIATION-NOVITY, BOMBAY AND BOB WOOLLEY THE WINNERS.

The inaugural running meeting of the Chester Park Association began to-day. The weather was all that could be asked, the attendance large, and the track in excellent condition. The accommodation for visitors was superb in every particular. In shape the track is very much like a saucer. Major John K. Villey was appointed as starter, and, from his past reputation in racing mat-ters, the selection pleased everybody. The ladies' stand, which is complete in all required appointments, was well filled. There were three races on the card—a trial purse, for all ages, one mile; the Ohio Derby Stakes, for three-year-olds, one mile and a half; and a

TRIAL PURSE—ONE MILE.

The first race was for a trial purse of $150; dash of one mile, no entrance fee being charged; the race closed with nine entries. After three false starts they were sent away with Novity in the lead, Evax were sent away with Novity in the lead, Evax second, Vinaigrette third, the balance in a bunch. Going down the back stretch the first time Crusian moved up and took second place with the others still trailing. Entering the hometretch for the first half mile, Grenoble came with a rush and passed Crusian, but he could not get nearer than two lengths to Novity, who was running easy.

She continued in the lead and won as she pleased.

Crusian and Grenoble had a bard fight down the home-stretch for second place, the mare beating Grenoble by one length. The mile was run in 1:40.

THE OHIO DEEDT STAKES.

The second race was the Ohio Dorby dash of one mile and a hall for three-year-olds. This stake closed with twenty-loar nominations, but only seven came to the post. These were:—W. T. Linck's Grit (winner of the post. These were:—W. T. Linck's Grit (winner of the Louisville Hotel Stake at Louisville); Oliver West's chestaut colt P. M. West, by Pianet, dam Miss Morgan (the dam of Minnie Melton), by imp. Yorkshire; John Funk's Harry Hill; John B. Todd's bay gelding, by Phaeton, dam Alert, by Lexington; Samuel Salyers' brown filly Minnie T. Morgan, D. Swigert's Bombay and Stewsrt's Malmestic. In the pools before the start Grit and Harry Hill sold about even, Bombay third choice, Maimestic fourth, the remaining three in the field. In drawing for positions Grit has track, Todd's Phaeton coit second, Minnie Morgan third, Bombay fourth, Hill fifth, West sixth. Fortune favored the horses, Malmestic Malmestic fourth, the remaining three in the field. In drawing for positions Grit has track, Todd's Phaeton coit second, Minnie Morgan third, Bombay fourth, Hill fifth, West sixth. Fortune favored the horses, Malmestic always difficuit to start, got away in good shape, and ran well throughout. At the tap of the drum Hill jumped away, Grit following, with Minne Morgan close up. Around the first turn Harry Hill held his own, the positions being the same as at the start. Going down the back-stretch Grit went up to Hill's hip, but around the second turn he dropped back a longth, and Hill entered the homestretch for the first time two lengths abead, and continued in the lead to the stand. In the meantime Bombay was gesting into position and running very steady. Going around the turn at the three-quarter pole Grit and Bombay were neck and neck, Hill still two lengths shead. Down the back-stretch West moved up to third place, the Islance in a bunch, all running well. Entering the homestretch for the first mile Hill looked very much like a winner and went past the stand one length shead of Grit and Bombay, who were parailel. The first mile was run in 140. After going by the stand at the end of the first mile Bombay went up and took second piace. At the quarter pole he was in good striking distance and still finning steady. Down the back stretch for the last time he collared Hill, and after a few strides took the lead and was never headed, winning by two lengths, Hill second, West third—the lavorite, Grit, was in the rear. The mile and a half was ren in 2:46. It was a pretty race, but Bombay won just as he liked.

The third race was mile heats, for all ages, which brought to the string eight starters—Bob Woolley, Emma C. Sue Wynn, Camargo, Larry Hart, Godmine, Piato, by Planct, out of imported Eleanor, by Voltigert, and Father Ryan, by Vandal, dam Rosalind.

First Heat.—They were sent away with Goldmine bonding, Piuto second, Camargo third, Piuto fourth, Emma C. the favorite in the rear. At the three-quarter pole Woolle

JOCKEY CLUB BETTING BOOKS.

As the time approaches for the gates of Jerome Park to be thrown open to the public speculation waxes warm upon the probable performers in the several important stakes to be run during the coming meeting. With the increase in the activity of the betting element the bookmaker at the Jockey Club rooms, Twenty-seventh street and Madison avenue, has cut down the favorites several points, so there have been many changes recently and the ruling rates at present are far below those of a month ago. Much of the reduction is due to the performances of some of the favorites at the recent meetings in the Southwest, both the bookmaker and public accepting victories there as excellent criterions of what it is possible for the horses to do in the East. The following are the latest odds offered and taken on the principal candidates in the more impor-As the time approaches for the gates of Jerome Park taken on the principal candidates in the more impor-tant events to take place at the Jerome spring meet

CLAY'S RED COAT.

Mr. Green Clay's chestnut colt Red Coat, three years. by imp. Australian, dam Sallie (the dam of Experience oaks) is now or will be to-day at Jerome Park, where he joins Mr. McGrath's stable. Red Coat's creditable victories of the Citizens' Stakes, two miles, at Lexington, and the Falls City Stakes, mile heats, at Louisville, makes him well thought of for the lielmont Stakes, in which he is engaged.

MUSTANG RACE TO-DAY.

At noon to-day Francisco Peralto, a Mexican rider. will commence the attempt to ride 155 miles in seven hours, over the Fleetwood Park track, having at his hours, over the Fleetwood Park track, having at his disposal twenty-five out of the thirty-six mustangs which have been recently brought from California. The track is in good condition, and yesterday afternoon the animals were exercised by the rider, who said that he felt confident of winning the race. Last evening Pernito was brought from the Park to the city, where "goggles" were purchased for him to protect his eyes against the sun and dust, this precaution being deemed necessary from the fact that on the last race Parker, the rider, was compelled to stop on account of blindness.

Now that it is becoming more generally known that the pole players practise on Wednesday and Saturday afternoons, the number of carriages, laden with spectators, at each game in-creases, and yesterday afternoon there were some twenty or thirty vehicles drawn up on the read outside twenty or thirty venicles arawn up on the read outside the grounds, and filled with ladies and gentlemen, who appeared to take a lively interest in the game. The ponies were all on the ground, ready saddled and bridled at half-past three, and stood under a clump of trees to the left of the carriage entrance, waiting for the time to come when they should be called upon to show their speed and training. They are all greatly improved in appearance, and reflect credit on the gentleman in whose charge they have been. Mr. W. P. Douglas, with his coach, arrived shortly after four P. M., and drew up to the right of the entrance under the shade of some trees, whose rich foliage afforded a pleasant shelter. Another coach was also drawn up close alongside, and the ladies that occudrawn up close alongside, and the ladies that occu-pied the root appeared thoroughly comfortable and prepared to enjoy themselves. After some little delay the gentlemen that were going to play emerged from the marquee, clad in breeches and boots and the blue and scarlet shirts that form the uniform of the club. After looking to the girths and leathers and seeing and scarlet shirts that form the uniform of the club.

After looking to the girths and leathers and seeing everything correct, they threw themselves into the pligskin and took a gentle canter to breathe their ministure steeds. They flually came together and after tossing for choice, the following sides were picked, and THE FIRST GAME BROAT.

contested, both sides making a determined fight. If a Griswold and Mr. Douglas were both playing well, and Mr. Francklyn also proved himself quite an adept in the use of the mailet. After some hard fighting they came to close quarters in front of Robbins' goal. In the excitement of the moment mallets began to be slung rather loosely, and Mr. Robbins got a smart tap on the eye. The damage, however, was slight. Mr. Perry Belmont finally made a clean hit and drove the ball away from his goal, sending the players once more to the centre. The ponies were all behaving very well, and appeared to be thoroughly well broken. The players now redoubled their exertions, and, after some sharp work on both sides, Mr. Bouglas made a good hit, and, backed up by Mr. Francklyn, carried the ball again to the centre. It was brought back again to Mr. Robbins' goal, where a well directed hit finished the game.

Mr. Robbins' goal, where a well directed hit finished the game.

In the fith game Mr. Crosby again took part, and Mr. Robbins officiated as umpire. After, the first charge for the ball the players all got Jammed up together in the centre, the malieta rattled together, and the ponies danced to the music as if appreciating the excitement of the game. Both sides gained an auvantage, and on several occasions the ball was driven out and the players ranged in opposite lines, ready to make a rush as soon as it was thrown back on the scene of the contest. Finally Mr. Crosby went to work and, backed up by Mr. Douglas, carried the ball down to the enemy's goal, where they were brought to a halt and a determined fight ensued. It was, however, only temporary, as one of the Crosby party sent the ball between the goal posts and scored another victory for his side.

the ball between the goal posts and scored another victory for his side.

was commenced as soon as the parties had changed goals. It was by far the pretiest game to watch, as there was more riding, the ball being kept more on the move and not all the time between the ponice' legs. The mellets, however, were again being raised aloft and the warning cry of 'Mallets down' that came from the umbirs, Mr. Robbins, had to be repeated a good many times without receiving any attention. Mr. Francklyn finally made a pretty good hit and brought the ball once more to the centre of the field, from where the Crosby party getting to work, backing each other well up, succeeded in carrying it up toward their opponents' goal. This time their skill again received its reward, as, after an exciting struggle, the little ball was suddenly hit out of the forest of bamboo sticks and pones' legs and, passing between the flagged goal posts, accred another victory for Mr. Crosby, making the total score four to Mr. Crosby and two to Mr. Bennett.

Some tew of the members remained for about a quarter of an hour longer, but as it was getting late the majority relieved themselves of their riding costume. The horses were put to the coaches and, with a parting blast of the hore, the lour-in-hands rolled out of the meadow and look the road for the city.

ATHLETIC SPORTS.

ANNUAL SPRING MEETING OF THE NEW YORK ATHLETIC CLUB-THE EVENTS AND ENTRIES-

The first important athletic meeting of the season will take place on Tuesday next (Decoration Day), the occasion being the annual reunion of the New York Athletic Club on its own grounds, near Mott Haven. Year after year the games of this spirited association have increased in interest and brilliancy, so that they are now looked forward to and attract great attention from all lovers of outdoor sports. There are twelve from all lovers of out-door sports. There are twelve events on the programme, eleven of which were open to all qual fled amateurs, and the responses to the same have been of a very liberal character, as the last of entries herewith appended will show. Among the names will be found many well tried performers, while the presence of that marvellous athlete, Mr.
William B. Curtis, of Chicago, and also that other brilliant amateur, Mr. H. E. Buermeyer, of New York, both of whom were absent last season, will be heartily welcomed by every member of the club and thousands who have seen them in uniform on the cinder path. All the prominent athletic clubs in this city are represented in one or more of the events, while a few are from a distance, and not the least satisactory nature of the list are the entries of several membars of college associations, this being the first time that such representatives have ever thought it worth while to test their form and speed in this city.

The grounds of the Athletic Club are now in supert condition and the track in excellent shape. The accommodations for spectators are of the most comfortable and ample nature, the grand stand erected last year being able to seat a vast crowd of spectators. The games will be called at two o'clock next Tuesday after-noon. The events and entries are as follows:---

THE CENTENNIAL RIFLE MATCH.

THE PRACTICE MATCHES OF THE IRISH BIVLE

To day the northern men met their Dublin colleague on the military ranges at Dundalk, and an excellent day's work resulted. The weather was charmingly fine, and on such a day the shooting, speaking roundly, should have been better. The men recorded their wind and elevation for each shot, and worked in this respect and elevation for each shot, and worked in this respect on the plan of the rifemen who carried the day at Dollymount. McKenna fired for the first time on his back, and this is held to account for the smallness of his score. Wilson was almost as sure as he ever was, but the rest of the Belfast men are not known in the shooting world. The shooters were divided into two squada, the northerness taking No. 1 target and the power learner. No. 2 and themes a march presching pe team No. 2, and though a match, practically speaking, was fired, there was no money prize or cop awarded the victors. As Mr. Joynt is a new rifleman Major Leech put him into James Pollock's place, and though this latter gentleman fired the full number of shots, making a total of 184 points, his score is not taken late account in the grand total calculations, which show a success for the Dublin men by 51 points. The first of the competitions for places in the Centennial Team will be held upon this day fortnight, May 26. Appended is the score—

SCHUETZENFEST.

The opening ceremonies of the fourth season at Schuetzen Park, Union Hill, were closed last evening with the distribution of nearly $4,000 worth of prizes. The elegant park was thronged with visitors and great interest was manifested by the representatives of the German, English, Scotch and American societies in the team shooting and outdoor sports. Five teams, of seven men cach, fired over the 200 yards range, having

INTERNATIONAL YACHT RACE.

A letter has been received from Mr. Gifford, the owner of the Canadian schooner yacht Countess of Dufferin, accepting the terms of the New York Yacht Club in regard to the sailing for the Queen's Cup in so far that he agrees to sail a series of three races, as so far that he agrees to sail a series of three races, as proposed by the New York Yacht Club, over the courses designated in this harbor or its vicinity in July, or to sail the series over the courses proposed, starting from Newport, R. L., in August. Mr. Griford, however, stipulates that one yacht shall be selected to sail against him, to be named by the 1st of July next. He objects to the selection of three yachts, one to be named as his competitor on the morning of the race, as the weather is light or rough, as was done in the case of the matches with the Livonia. A majority of the members of the New York Yacht Clob are in favor of acceding to the proposition of Mr. Gifford, considering that it would be more sportsmanlike, and more conductive generally to the interests of yachting. The club however, has to determine the question.

The Cheiseas, of Brooklyn, were defeated here to-day by the Princeton College nine by a zeore of 14 to 8. ANOTHER GREAT DRY GOODS AUC-TION.

Another enormous sale of dry goods at auction, similar to that held on Tuesday at the store of Messra. Wright, Bliss & Fabyan, will be held to-day. To-day's sale is by Messra. Field, Morris, Fenner & Co., of No. 465 Broome street, and it is thought will nearly equal in magnitude that of Tuesday. The entire production of the Amoskeag, Langdon, Stark and Naumkeag manufacturing companies, amounting to over 6,000 cases of staple domestic goods, will be sold, A majority of the out of town merchants, who came to the city to attend the first sale, have remained to be on hand for to-day's, and if the rapid manner is which the goods were sold on Tuesday, and the evident desire for more than were offered in any criterios, the goods to be offered to-day will go off well. Auctions like these have not occurred before in a number of years, the last one being in May, 1867, when 3,000 pieces were offered and the receipts aggregated about $500,000. THE EXCISE LAW.

Mayor Wickham was closeded with the Police Com-nissioners vesterday for half an hour, the subject of obversation being the raid on Sunday last. The doors lons with regard to the raid and the future policy of the Board. General South said that in the enforcement of the law he insisted on the strictest impartiality. Mr. Nichols beleved in a modification of the law, whereby an open traffic on Sunday might be done away with. The other Commissioners saw no remedy but to enforce the law so long as it remained on the sature books. The general opinion was that the Board would not recede from its present position, although it is probable that less harsh measures will be adopted in future.

A meeting of inquos dealers was held yesterday after-noon at the call of the Central Committee of the equor Dealers' Association, to make arrangements for a general mass meeting to protest against the rigid en-forcement of the Excise law. Major Sauer called the meeting to order and nominated Mr. Nichael Hahn for chairman. Mr. Hahn was elected, and on taking the chair wished it distinctly understood that he was present at the meeting simply in his capacity as a private citizen. He has no ficancial interest in any of the vari-ous branches of the trade, but must enter his earnest urged the appointment of a committee to make preparations for a mass meeting of citizens to take place early next week in Cooper Institute. He denounced the present Excise law as an outrage upon the liberty of citizens, affecting not only the persons ongaged in the traffic, but materially striking at the right to exercise their free will by the masses of the people.

Mr. R. Kalzelnewer said it was no use for oither the who esale or retail dealers to attempt to make the question a political one or to attempt to throw binne either upon the Police Commissioners or the officials who did their bidding. The fault was in the law itself, and so long as it remained or, the statute book the city officials had no alternative except to enforce it when called upon to do so. That this call had been made by a certain partion of the community who represent the temperance element was an established fact. What the meeting should consider was how either to obtain a repeal of the law or to so modify it that a distinction would be drawn between the sale of spirituous liquors and that of beer and light wines, both of which, he claimed, were not only harmless, but wholesome and nutritions beverages. Until this could be done the courts should be asked to make a temporary injunction in order to prevent a recurrence of the disgraceful scenes of last Sunday. A test case could be started at once, and if that failed such men should be sent to the Legislature as would either abolish or smend the law.

After some other speeches a committee on mass meeting was appointed, with power to add to their number, so that the committee when complete will have two representatives from each ward in the city.

After the adjournment of the meeting an informal meeting of the committee was held, when it was decided to await the result of the meeting of the German Saengerbund this evening before taking any definite action.

EXCISE DEPARTMENT CHANGES.

The Board of Excise yesterday officially appointed Casper C. Childs as Chief Clerk to the Commissioners. They also dismissed Inspectors Urban, Hunt, Coffig and Weeks, and appointed in their places Messrs. Oliver H. Kingsland, Thomas Kannady, James F. Cavaver H. Kingsland, Thomas Kannady. James F. Cavanagh and James Gregory. It is probable that the position of chief bookkeeper, now held by Mr. Koerner, will be given to Mr. Donohue, of Albany, formerly Excise Inspector in that city. The Commissioners are unanimous in the opinion that the business of the department requires from six to eight additional inspectors, and if the appropriation asked for is given by the Board of Estimate and Apportionment the force will be so increased.

THE DEPARTMENT OF JUSTICE.

CONTINUATION OF THE CONGRESSIONAL INVES TIGATION AT THE ASTOR HOUSE.

The Sub-Committee of the Congressional Committee on the Department of Justice (Mr. Meade, chairman) continued its session at the Aster House yesterday. The committee was engaged during most of the day in hearing testimony, hoping to gather some clews from which tangible evidence might hereafter be gained in furtherance of the purpose of the investigations. All the witnesses were examined with closed doors, not that the press might be denied admission so much as to prevent the possibility of persons subponned utilizing the committee for the gratification of personal malice or them some charges against officials with which they spite. The committee have already had presented to them some charges against officials with which they have but little to do, and again they have heard serious statements made which, ip the absence of any corroboration as yet, they do not desire to have made public. This silence will be removed should any information come before the committee which would render the allegations entitled to consideration.

Two United States Deputy Marshals, Harris and Bernhard were examined, their testimony having reforence to the manner of the performance of their duties, a few recent cases being taken for example. This sort of testimony is of but little interest except to the committee itself, whose business it is to collect facus for a general revision of the Marshal's office. The testimony of John X. Brown, a printer, at No. 24 Beckman street, was also taken. Brown testified that he was little more than an agent in the business for John I. Davenport, who put $25,000 into the concern a few years ago, nearly all of which, however, was now gone; he admitted that a large number, if not all, of the election documents had been printed in the concern. Davenport having control of such papers as Supervisor of Elections; but he denied that any overcharges had ever been made; he stated that Davenport had always been particularly anxious to have the bills down to the very lowest figure, at which similar work would be done by any anxious to have the bills down to the very lowest figure, at which similar work would be done by any other firm.

In the evening the committee held a secret session. Considerable speculation was occasioned in the alternoon among interested outsiders as to the cause of the presence of two ladies at the door of the committee room seeking for admission, and hopes were entertained that the dull routine of the investigation was to be brightened up by some startling testimony involving somebody or other in "a case, with a woman in it." The conjectures all vanished into thin air when it became known that one of the ladies called to see a member of the committee only to ask a question or two about some other man.

THE PICNIC HOMICIDE.

Coroner Croker held an inquest yesterday morning in the case of John Sexton, who was shot last Saturday night by John McMahon, Jr., white entering on the premises of the latter from the National Park,

Thomas McMahon, father of the prisoner, testified:—

who attend picnics in the Park; last Sunday my garden was trampled over and my fence broken down by

went to the police station and told the officer in charge, who said that policemen had been already sent to my house.

Catharine McMahon, wife of the preceding witness, said she was at home when the affray took place; she heard a noise and saw several roughs chasing her son and throwing stones at him; one of the crowd called out to her son, "I'll have your life and burn the boust down;" they broks down the fence and followed my son to the door with sticks and stones.

Michael Platy, of Sixty-second street, between Tenis and Eleventh avenues, said that he was with the accused last Saturday night sitting on a rock near the fonce which divides the two lots; while there a young man came to the platform and ordered them away; John McMahon, Jr., said that he lived there; stones were then thrown across the fence and witness saw one mandle mb over; he did not wait to see the subsequent proceedings, but ran home.

John Ginley, who was also with McMahon, said that after the first man got over the fence several others followed and chased himself and companion into the latter's house; McMahon got two guns and gave one to with ran back toward the fence; some one took hold of with ress and broke his gun; McMahon also was struggling with some one and his gun wont off; witness saw it man fail and then ran away; It was very dark and he did not see any one until his gun was grabbod; he had heard some one call out that they would burn McMahon's house.

Henry O'Donnell, a painter, of No, 514 Tenth avenue, said that he was with the deceased at the time of the row; no stones were thrown by them and no words were used about burning the house.

The case was then, as hall-past one, adjourned till this morning at eleven o'clock.

A CLEVER CAPTURE.

Last night as Martin H. Jensen, of No. 414 First avenue, was passing through Bleecker street, in the direction of Broadway, he was assaulted by three men who knocked him down and robbed him of
